

To Whom It May Concern,

I find it quite disturbing that the FCC is considering overturning the New Jersey "Do Not Call" list. Its job is to protect the rights of its citizens, not to allow such colossal violations of privacy. I find it ironic that during a time when the FCC - through laughable and loathsome censorship of such people as Howard Stern - is already a meddling presence in our lives, they are unwilling to protect us from the unwelcome and truly annoying solicitations of telemarketers. As a citizen, I urge the FCC not to overturn the NJ "Do Not Call" law on the grounds that it would result in a gross violation of privacy. As a taxpayer, I demand that the FCC not overturn the law on the grounds that doing so amounts to nothing less than dereliction of duty.

Sincerely,

JN
